In or out of the classroom Ms. Hepinstall is always up to something - whether it be concocting new chemical substances, pretending she was a cheerleader in high school, or telling one of her lame, but funny jokes.

As involved as Hep is outside of school, she still made time last year to help our class out when our spring dance almost fell to pieces the day before. She shows up at all of our events and supports our class. She is our teacher, mentor and friend.

who's the loser now?

Rock on sister friend!

Hep is also one of our advisors for our yearbook, although we never see her and she never does anything! What she does do is act. Last year she made her theater debut as Miss Lynch in Grease. People cheered as she walked on stage and now her ego is as big as her hairdo!

Although we pick on her, we rely on Hep to be there for us when we need a shoulder to lean on, a teacher to learn from, a friend to laugh with and a bit of humor in our lives.

Cape Cod has been a starting point for many of us, and the memory and beauty of this fragile peninsula will remain in our hearts and minds forever.

Some of us may not understand why so many tourists come from afar every summer to this narrow strip of land. But if you take the time to look around once in awhile, you'll see its appeal is in its outer beauty and the quaintness of its small towns.

Our Class History...

We entered the high school four years ago, running from the towers and tiles of the middle school to the open campus of the high school. We loved the outdoor hallways for everyone to congregate, but only on sunny days. We often cursed the "stupid architects" for designing classrooms totally separated from one another as we splashed through puddles like drowned rats or slipped and fell on ice.

We entered a school with looming upperclassmen (and although we haven't grown much since freshman year, we now consider ourselves huge) and many intimidating teachers of whom we heard unlimited interesting stories.

We quickly realized that you do not go to class at the sound of the bell, but at the sound of Dr. Markovich's booming voice. (Who was rumored to have previous employment with the Russian KGB or cattle herding -- no one knew for sure, and those who did, weren't talking). We each had our dose of freshman pranks, and could not have been more eager to dive in as sophomores after a year of the traditional embarrassing freshman pep rally, infamous belaying ropes in gym, and a year of being bottom of the heap.

We enjoyed only one year of the quiet campus before our legacy continued. Once more the bulldozers and construction workers came in to tear apart our school. We watched as they tarred the rooftops wearing protective masks as we walked happily inhaling the fumes.

As sophomores, we were also welcomed with block scheduling. It was found to be quite successful at even putting insomniacs to sleep. Clocks had never moved so slowly. This same year, Nauset did the unthinkable. We finally had a football team. Some are still in denial, but most eagerly participated, making the largest team we had. We won't mention the record breaking scores of our first season, but it was welcomed and supported. It was the same year that the seniors had the driest water day ever. Apparently, the water pipes were "under construction." We would like to award points of creativity to Mr. Conrad.

Junior year came around too soon for some, and not soon enough for others. The year welcomed us with PSATs, where we quickly realized that we had not yet mastered the skill of filling in ovals. We seemed to prefer the same strategy used with previous Nauset tests by simply making designs down the page. (Note to underclassmen: that technique doesn't work too well.) Later that year, our class was given the honor of sponsoring the "spring fever" dance in a desperate attempt to fill our empty treasury. As the year went on, we made friendships and built memories -- both of which we will never forget. This year of trips, vacations and memorable events came to a sad close at graduation as we said goodbye to the class we had known and grew close to since freshman year.

At last we were seniors! But the benefits were gone. Throughout our underclassmen years we had painfully watched every senior privilege disappear from our eyes. First early graduation; then study halls (that one was rough); but our favorite, our most endeared, was senior privilege. But no, we are not bitter. The senior parking lot (for underclassmen as well) definitely outweighs sleeping in 85 minutes or leaving early. So, Mr. Conrad and Mr. Markovitch, you need not fear if we know where you live and frequently leave gifts at your door. Regardless of what we were jipped out of, we did our best to make the most of our last year at Nauset.

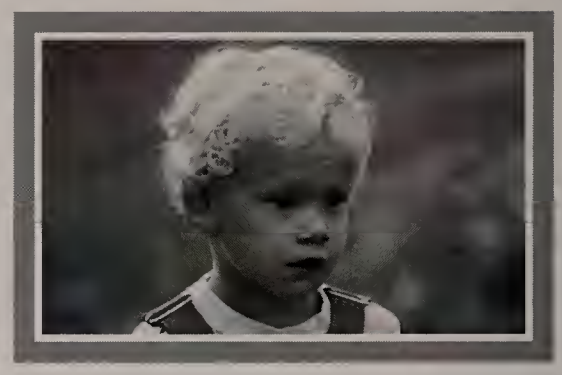

By senior year we had all mastered the fine art of sleep deprivation. Life became hectic with the process of college applications. Writing your name, address, and social security number 6000 times gets mildly repetitive. But it was an exciting time as well. We were all making plans for our futures; realizing that after so much together we would have to part ways. Everything was a last: the last sports season, the last play, the last homecoming. While this was exciting, it was also saddening. Senior year flew by. Although we're saying goodbye, we'll always have memories to look back on. Memories of laughing with friends, dances, games, plays, concerts, parties, and so much more. And our goodbye is not forever....

"Captive on the carousel of time, we can't return we can only look behind."

Well this definitely isn't easy. How many times have we said "Oh this is definitely going in the yearbook!" There's been too many good times and bad times to condense into 100 words. All I can say is that we've made it through everything so far with minimal scars and a hell of a lot of memories. Fawn, my partner in crime, Liz, my Dighti Sister, Najlla, Cyrena, Jenn, Mike, and everyone else who knows exactly who they are 1437 (cheezy!) Mom and Dad thanx for everything 143- "keep what's important and knows who's your friend"- Phish

Forget writing 100 words that consist of initials and private jokes. All I really have to say is I have love for all those who loved me. I wouldn't have made it this far if it weren't for you. "To all the girls I loved- its a new year I got a new change of gear I swear!" Some I loved more than others- you know who you are. To my crew we had great times some I'll never forget- ONE LOVE. Ryan- no more stress just rest. Mom, Dad and Aelish thanx for all the things you've ever done for me you are my true strength I owe you everything. Peace to everyone from 98' its your turn to do great things so go do them.

These 4 years have blended into one big year, it seems. I don't know that 100 words is adequate to sum up such a long time. I could pick a few highlights: seaquarium, "heys!", smokebombs, the communications video, the old lady of the temple. i could list friends like the others, but I won't 'cause they know who they are anyway. Instead, I'll fill the space with an appropriate quote from Elwood Blues: "Well folks, it's time to call it a night. Do what you feel and keep both feet on the wheel. You don't have to go home, but you can't stay here. Until next time..."

"Weapons are tools of ill omen. War is a grave matter; ...."

Even for an eggshell. Rightly to be great is not to stir without great argument, but greatly to find quarrel in a straw when honor 's at the stake. How stand I then , that have a father killed , a mother stained, excitements of my reasons and my blood, and let all sleep, while to my shame I see the imminent death of 20,000 men that for a fantasy and trick of fame go to their graves like beds. Fight for a plot whereon the numbers cannot try the cause, which is not tomb enough and continent to hide the slain? O, from this time forth, my thoughts be bloody, or be nothing worth!

I finally turned around and realized
That you were behind me
all the way.

If you label others, You're only restricting yourself.

7:20 You jump in your car, at Mobil you stop.

7:30 You fly into school, you're already late

8:03 Slack off in Hep's class, don't do your work.

11:52 Inhale your food, there's no time to munch

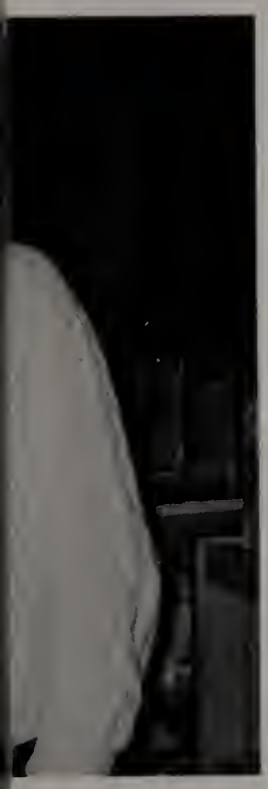

1:19 If you go to fourth block, you'll have time to play

7:31

Oh, Dear God... Hit the brake!

9:58

Lose it in Health class, you'll look like a jerk.

10:27
Study up in the library with this happenin' bunch,

1:47
Pass out in the court yard, it's been a long day.

I'd trade all my tomorrows

For just one yesterday.

POWDERPUFF

The student council hosted the first powder puff football game, juniors v. seniors. The girls charged out on the field, ready to show the guys just what they were made of. The seniors ruled the game from beginning to end, with final score of 18 - 12.

NAUSET BOYS SOCCER

The Nauset boys soccer team had a big change this year with the departure of Coach Donahue. This change proved no problem for the boys, with former Nauset player John McCully. The team had an outstanding year ending with an 13-2-2 record. Senior capains Sean Richardson and Dov Ribnick led their team to the semi-finals against Holliston, which unfourtunatley did lead to the end of their remarkable season. The boys fought hard in this final game ending with a fight that was tough and which all their hearts were a part of. Great Season Guys!

YEARBOOK

Even though we started the year with a huge debt, we all pulled together and ended up with one of the best yearbooks in Nauset history...Oh * the computer broke again! Are there any pictures of the Golf team? What happened to the senior section! Who's gonna go to Dunkin Donuts... oh, the deadline's today? Quick, Quick! Fat Cheese! Somebody crop the sports page... In Memory.....

I can not say enough about Jesse Shantz in these few words. I can't say what he meant to so many people; he was a son, a comedian who had a great smile and most of all, a friend who served as an inspiration for us. Jesse spent his time at the beaches of Wellfleet, on whale watches, on nature walks with his parents in the woods, and just being a great person all of the time. Jesse was a strong individual. Even in his last days, he was cracking jokes to make others feel more comfortable. Jesse will always be remembered as a remarkable person and regarded with the utmost respect.

- Dov Ribnick

Even though he was only nineteen when he died, Jesse lived a full and content life. Jesse's love for the ocean was apparent in every aspect of his life, from his love of and gift for surfing to his dream of going to and being accepted to South Hampton College. He also loved his work on the Dolphin Fleet. Jesse believed in living each day to its fullest, as if each day had huge value, as if it would be his best. Through everything he always had a warm smile on his face and a twinkle in his eyes as he went searching for his "perfect wave." It is hard to sum up Jesse in a few words - everyone that knew him will remember him and those memories will go on forever.

The sun represents our love for Jesse Shantz

To Anders

From your perspective the first 18 years of your life have crawled by. From ours it has passed with a blink of our eyes. You are a wonderful son, brother and friend. Your sense of humor, wit and mischief is balanced by compassion and consideration for others. We feel our greatest gifts are you, Kyle and Liana and our greatest success so far is the young man you've grown into. Although we wish for you many accomplishments and successes in life our strongest wish is that some day you experience a heart full of love, pride and joy equal to that which you have given us. Believe in yourself and your dreams. We will always be there to help you.
We love you.

Nathan,
Every step we take on Earth
leads us to a new world -
Immense spirals of unfolding pathways.
Life is mostly what we make of it filled with sunshine or with storm, grief or trials, great or small -
Please know we are always here
for you, with love and support.

Dear Danielle,

You are the daughter of Life's longing for itself.
I gave you my love, but not my thoughts.
I housed your body, but not your soul.
For your soul belongs in the house of tomorrow
Which I can not visit, not even in my dreams.

I will miss the daily wonder of you.
God speed, Love Mom

Dear Adam (Wads),

"Is this the little boy I carried?" "Wasn't it yesterday when you were small?"

It's hard for Mom and me to put into words how proud we are of all your accomplishments so far. Your classmates recognize your smile, your school spirit, and your overall good nature. Your coaches appreciate your sportsmanship. Mom and I know all that and more. We know you are a very caring, sensitive, and dedicated young man who has a bright future ahead. Use your special attributes and you will fulfill all of your dreams. Best wishes to you and all of your wonderful friends in the class of 1998.

Eighteen years ago the Lord blessed us with our Jaime Lynn. You have brought such joy and happiness into our lives. We are so proud of the person you have become - caring, compassionate, and willing to love unconditionally. You give so much, and ask so little in return. As your family, we can think of no better gift to give the world than you. You will spend your life making the world a better place. We have no doubts you will be successful. We love you very much, and will always be here for you.

"Alexa" It's hard to believe this day is already here, yet for you it was a long time coming. We remember the pigtails, those missing teeth, and that wonderful smile of yours. Almost overnight you're grown up and are ready to take on all the responsibilities of being an adult. We're so proud of you, and so happy for you too. You've been a joy to us. Now you must begin your journey down life's road, but please remember you'll never be alone. We will always be there for you, and you'll always have a place to come home to. Senior Cheerleaders

Jenn, You've been with me since my first year. I missed you your last season! You're a great Cheerleader! Wish me luck with the classes to come! I think I'll need it! You're the last of the best!

Crissy, You had great drive and spirit! You would always make me laugh! Shall we decorate another gym?Who could forget: "It was me!"

I will miss all of you! You were the ones that made my squad what it is today and paved the way for what it will be tomorrow. I will remember you in years to come and think That was a Great Squad!

Robyn, I think you need some super glue. You were always broken! I wish you were able to finish the year. Thanks for being my personal fashion consultant, I guess I needed it!

Jenny, my All Star and Jump Queen! You Rock! You are an awesome Cheerleader. Good luck at college, you'll make a great teacher!

Colleen,(DB)What can I say? Your freindship has meant the world to me and I don't know what I will do next year when you will be a long distance phone call away! No more midnight phone calls, who's going to feed the boys?

Alexa, (dlw) you're so sick. How I ever put up with your boobery! Thanks for always telling me more that I really wanted to know! When can we go to the Gap again? Bring on the Jeans!

Lisa, I wish I could have done more for you. You know that I will always be there if you ever need anything. Feel free to borrow my boots anytime! Us big footed women need to stick together!

Bianca, thank you for being such a wonderful help. Two seasons of watching our foolish practices and playing that music over and over and over again! I would have been lost without you!

To my graduating Yearbook girls:

We've had quite a time this year. You've been the hardest working class I have had since I took over the yearbook - oh - I mean since Hep and I took over.... It has been murderous but it has been fun. The dedication has been enormous - often I would look up from a drama rehearsal and see Kathryn working on the sports section - the section that never seemed to end - or Lauren, Colleen and Hep would make their way down to my house to finish that ever-elusive deadline. We've had many laughs, much stress, a few sad moments, and many wonderful times. Thank you all for a wonderful yearbook and a fun year. Good luck next year and in the years to come. Love to you all, Ms. Hamer

You have all touched me in a special way - and you have touched your public in a special way as well.

The Nauset Players will never be the same again - now that you all have come and gone. There are so many memories to hold on to in your years to come - make them your successes - your times in the spotlight and those times out of the spotlight - backstage. I love each and every one of you. Thank you. Judy

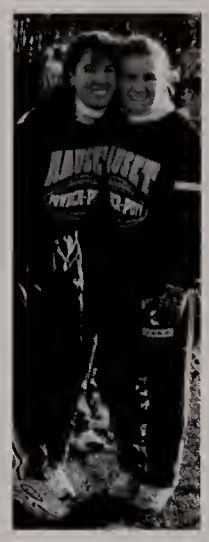

To My Dear Other Half:

"We started outon a journey..." Words hardly give justice to our friendship these last 3 years. You've added so much to my life; your spirit will live on in my heart I'll miss you, so much.

Thanks for...you. Love always,
Jenny

Jean-

This is a special message for you! You are a great friend and thanks for always being there. Remember all the fun and important stuff "Vanguard Award, Pre-Calculus, & always laughter!

I love ya! Love always, Colleen

Good Luck to the girls of '98!! I'll missyou! Love, Jenn

-There's been laughter and theres been tears. Lots of smiles among many fears. -Through it all...and once again, we remain the very best of friends! You've all touched my heart and soul.

"Wherever we went, whatever we did, we went through it together. We may not have gone far but we're like the stars, and we went through it together, we're gonna thru whatever we do together...as friends."

If we couldn't laugh, we would all gone insane...whether it be from Halloween's of the past or parties of the present. Who could forget the time Morgan & Bianca went shopping and got a LEETLE bit wet. Who else but Elise and Kate could keep up a tradition like "shrinkage" for over 5 years? Or how about Homecoming '97-"Can I have another?" Perhaps we could dress in FLAMING pink + green outfits and dance on the stage on last time, and how could we forget who made Mr. Kidney retire? Let's not even get onto the subject of W.S.D.G. Maybe someday "it'll come off," but whose knows it's a very old school. "Tell me, If I leave, would you forget me because if you did, I would surely never go."

To The Class of 1998,

We've worked for countless frustrating hours on this year's yearbook and as the yearbook class grew smaller, the work load increased. There were no "days off" like we remembered from last year.

Unfortunately, we were all too busy to fit the regular class into our schedules this year. With an editor in each class period, and more interns than ever before, this year's yearbook is a collaboration of all our efforts.
We're happy to finally say our work is done.

Hope you enjoy it!
